Terrence Baldwin is a Montgomery, AL, native who has devoted his life to enriching the lives of others through his abundant knowledge in music. He began this mission as a child at Pilgrim Rest Baptist Church with Minnie Stringer and furthered his journey by winning multiple awards for performances at Booker T Washington Magnet High School.

He received his BA and Science Degree in Music Education from Alabama State University, where he studied extensively under Dr. Toney Stewart, Joel Jones and others. Terrence has continued to use his extraordinary talents as a touring musician with American Idol Ruben Studdard, business owner of T Baldwin Music, church musician for over 26 years, and director of 'Music Education on Wheels' and its non-profit parallel MEOW Cares Inc.

As an active member of both Phi Mu Alpha Professional Music Fraternity Inc and Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Terrence is driven to spread his insights to the musicians of tomorrow - inspiring every new generation to reach their fullest potential. He is also a part of Class XXXI Leadership Montgomery and a recent graduate of The James W. Wright Leadership Development Institute.

Terrence is the husband of Ronya Baldwin, father of Terron, Terrence Jr, and Rodney. He hopes for many more years of nurturing the world through music.
